A Message from Mayor Woods

Dear Liberty Community,

It's hard to believe that it's already been a year and a half since we adopted our city's first strategic plan, but here we are, excited to present an updated plan.

I am proud to share that we have accomplished much and continue to work on strategies we introduced in our inaugural strategic plan. I've highlighted many of our achievements in my State of the City Address video presentation.

You may remember, in our 2022 Strategic Plan, there were achievement time frames ranging from short-term (12 - 18 months), mid-term (18 months - 3 years), and long-term (3 - 5 years).

Consequently, as you look through the 2023-2024 City of Liberty Strategic Plan, you will see that there are goals and strategies carried over from our 2022 plan. Time frames will have changed to reflect the carry-over, as well. Other goals and strategies have been added or amended as council saw the need to address changing circumstances and interests within the public.

I can confidently say, enacting that first strategic plan has proven to be an effective tool that is successfully guiding us to attaining our goals. We all continue to work diligently toward fulfilling our vision that was inspired, in part, by the people of Liberty's input.

Thank you to our council and staff for all your efforts in keeping the city functioning efficiently. Thank you to our citizens and community members who take the time to encourage us and volunteer to help make a positive difference in the City of Liberty. This spirit exemplifies that great things happen when we work in unity. Let's keep the momentum going!

For the love of Liberty,

Erica Romo Woods
Mayor of Liberty

Community-Based Plan

The purpose of strategic planning is to establish a consensus around a unified vision for the future development of a community or organization. In the case of a local government, such as Liberty, the process is designed to achieve effective and efficient administration and the delivery of municipal services, all in alignment with one shared vision.

A successful strategic planning process involves gathering input from various internal and external stakeholders to assess improvement opportunities across all areas of responsibility for a municipality. Most importantly, a municipal strategic plan helps a community define its identity, its target audience, the services it offers, and the optimal means of delivering those services.

In 2020, the City of Liberty developed the 'Liberty Master Plan,' which incorporated input from citizens to provide the city with a general road map for potential areas of focus in future efforts. The city initiated the development of this community-based plan through a series of community meetings, discussions with department heads and elected officials, and a SWOT analysis. While they collected a plethora of ideas, concerns, and goals, several major areas of focus emerged. These included:

- Infrastructure/Facilities
- Review/Protect Historic Properties
- Arts/Recreation
- Walkways/Pathways
- Downtown/Economic Development
- Events/Tourism

Once the themes became evident, the next step in the planning process was to develop several broad categories aimed at achieving the strategies. Four focus areas emerged, including Resilient Infrastructure, Economic Development, Dynamic Community, and Efficient & Effective Government. The City Council met in 2023 to review and select the final strategies and time frames. These time frames include short-term (12-18 months), mid-term (18 months – 3 years), long-term (3-5 years) and ongoing.

The City of Liberty is committed to implementing the strategic plan and incorporating community input into shaping future plans. The city believes that using partnerships and collaborations is essential to achieving future success in this endeavor. With this in mind, the 2023/2024 Strategic plan is considered a 'living document' that must be regularly updated and modified to address changing circumstances, budget limitations, and shifting community priorities. The mayor and council are dedicated to conducting an annual review of the strategic plan and making changes to align it with the shared vision of the community.
